

An Incomplete Selection of Training Model Readings

- Belar, C., & Perry, N. (1992). National conference on scientist-practitioner education and training for the professional practice of psychology. American Psychologist, 47, 71-75. (Gainesville)
- Bourg, E., Bent, R., Callan, J., Jones, N., McHolland, J., & Stricker, G. (1987). Standards and evaluation of professional psychologists: Knowledge, attitudes, and skills. Norman, OK: Transcript Press. (Mission Bay)
- Hoch, E., Ross, A., & Winder, C. (Eds.). (1966). Professional preparation of clinical psychologists. Washington, D. C., American Psychological Association. (Chicago)
- Korman, M. (1974). National conference on levels and patterns of professional training in psychology. American Psychologist, 29, 441-449. (Vail)
- Peterson, R., McHolland, J., Bent, R., Davis-Russell, E., Edwall, G., Polite, K., Singer, D., & Stricker, G. (Eds.). The core curriculum in professional psychology.
- Peterson, R., Peterson, D., Abrams, J., & Stricker, G. (1997). The National Council of Schools and Programs of Professional Psychology educational model. Professional Psychology, 28, 373-386.
- Raimy, V. (1950). Training in clinical psychology. New York: Prentice Hall (Boulder)
- Roe, A., Gustad, J., Moore, B., Ross, S., & Skodak, M. (Eds.). (1959) Conference on graduate education in psychology. Washington, D. C.: American Psychological Association. (Miami)
- Stricker, G., & Trierweiler, S. (1995). The local clinical scientist. American Psychologist, 50 (12), 995-1002.